James R. and Karen A. Gilley Academic Leadership Award

The James R. and Karen A. Gilley Academic Leadership Award honors an ASABE member who is currently providing outstanding academic leadership while serving as the department head/chair of a Biological and Agricultural Engineering Department that presently has an ABET accredited Agricultural/Biological Engineering program and is located in the United States.

Established in 2011, this award was endowed by ASABE Fellow, Dr. James R. Gilley, his wife Karen, and family to recognize academic excellence through service as a department head/chair. The honoree receives a stately full-leaded eagle perched on an engraved optic crystal base.
